

Jodeme Goldhar, MSW, MHSc,

Executive Lead, Strategy and Innovation

Jodeme Goldhar joined The Change Foundation in April 2017 as Executive Lead, Strategy and Innovation. In this role, she is responsible for facilitating the strategic focus, creating and convening opportunities for collaborators to come together around common goals, and building more international relationships to add to these collaborations. Jodeme is also responsible for examining opportunities beyond The Change Foundation's current priorities to inform policy and practice in Ontario.

Jodeme's passion is convening opportunities for those in health and social systems to work together around common goals to realize the potential for transformative improvement. The Change Foundation serves as a catalyst to support large scale transformative change and ensures change opportunities are co-designed with patients, their families and providers.

As health systems pursue better integration, Jodeme believes that we need to work in new ways, with new power structures, to bring out the best in individuals, teams, communities and systems.

Jodeme brings over 20 years of experience in the Ontario health care and health policy sector and is an adjunct lecturer and co-instructor at the University of Toronto's Institute for Health Policy, Management and Evaluation. Jodeme works locally and internationally with government, organizations and providers across the health system, clients and families. She has also acted as principal and co-principal investigator on a number of research initiatives related to integration to inform policy and practice in Ontario.

Jodeme serves as a Fellow of the NHS Horizons team in the UK, a Board member and Senior Associate for The International Foundation for Integrated Care, Co Founder of the International Foundation for Integrated Care, Canada and an Executive Leadership Coach.
